WHEN ASAA MEETS IBIZA FIND SYNERGY BETWEEN NATURE AND ARCHITECTURE

A detached bright original and designed house hidden in a grove, setting on a promenade overlooking the Mediterranean sea is the perfect place to retire to from the city life.

This villa, as a real “invitation to the voyage” offering an unlimited view of the skyline, is a haven of peace and tranquillity.

The modern sculpture in the landscaped garden – naturally guides the way to the attached annexe set in these idyllic surroundings – that provides a perfect space to relax in the spa or gather with friends.

Not far from the external aspect, the interior clear and uncluttered let appears trendy furniture – a part designed by ASAA – the other part belonging from the classical design. This “home blending” mixed with natural materials like wooden parquet allows the resident to feel completely integrated in the nature. The house is a membrane which is completely opened to the outside, to the sea and Nature.

Moreover, respecting the LEED Environmental Quality (platinum level), the house includes for example vegetal roofing (to create natural retention for raining water and better isolation) or swimming pool with the Biotop system .

ASAA is offering to his client high quality house respecting and including in his concept the Environment.

THE STUDIO:

Created in Paris by Axel Schoenert in 1999, Axel Schoenert Architectes Associés (ASAA) agency is developing its competencies in all the domains that architecture is offering: meaning that ASAA is working on architectural projects, interior design, project management, quantity surveying, and building analysis services for clients in both public and private sectors.

Since the agency has been created, ASAA realised some projects in France and abroad thanks to the international team. The international team represents ASAA's strength since ASAA is a multilingual and multicultural team with various backgrounds which help to broaden our vision.
